A Long Look Ahead..... 2
Some significant predictions about regulation, social change, new and existing services and Bell System people. From a report by the Institute for the Future.

Measuring the Job, by Robert M. Gryb..... 8
Measurements help make the business move, but there's room for vast improvement in the way they're interpreted

The Corporate Stake in Urban Transportation, by Howard Quick..... 11
The transportation mess in many major American cities is costing the Bell System and other businesses heavily in money and manpower.

Forecasting the Labor Force..... 20
Who will all the people be? Where will they live and work? What will they do? A look at the human side of the System in the 1970's.

The Operators, by Donald R. Woodford..... 24
How a Washington, D.C., traffic team consistently turns in top performances.

The New Loyalty, by John R. Bonee..... 28
Are faithfulness and fidelity things of the past, or are people simply shifting their allegiance? An Illinois Bell P.R. man and former priest explores the issue.

MARCH/APRIL 1972

Bell System Plans in the Data Field, by C. W. Owens..... 2
An in-depth look at the fastest-growing segment of the business.

The Greatest of All Quests, by Manfred Brotherton..... 6
BELLCOMM, its mission accomplished when man walked on the moon, is being phased out.

The Better To Serve, by Marco Gilliam..... 11
Bell companies train more people in a given year than any other industrial or academic institution.

A New Top Team for the Bell System..... 16
Profiles of the four men who will guide the System in the challenging years ahead.

The Politics of Creative Tension, by Henry M. Boettinger.. 18
Ideas about how an organization might be made to run at top efficiency.

MARCH/APRIL 1972

Racism-Is It Alive and Well in America?..... 24
Overt racism may be dying in the nation, but is a more insidious substitute taking its place?
A Warm Medium of Communication by Prof. Omar Khayyam Moore..... 30
Picturephone service as an effective educational tool.

MAY/JUNE 1972

Government and Business: Working In Concert Toward Common Goals..... 2
An examination of the positive interaction between Federal, state and local government and American business.
Child Care and the Bell System..... 7
Developed to reduce high employee turnover, the Bell System's pioneering day care program is one year old.
Optical Fibers: Cable for the Laser..... 14
Tiny glass fibers may provide the transmission system of the future.
The Better to Serve-Part II, by Dr. Harry A. Shoemaker..... 16
An in-depth look at current training around the Bell System and how it can be improved.
Manpower Needs and the Urban Schools, by G. T. Bowden..... 22
How does the current plight of urban education relate to the Bell System?
Communications for a Super City..... 30
A glimpse into 21st century telecommunications as Houston plans to enlarge its Central Business District.

JULY/AUGUST 1972

It Takes Dollars to Do the Service Job, by William G. Burns..... 2
An in-depth look at the inter-relationship of earnings and service in the Bell System.
To Market, To Market..., by Nicholas J. Mammana..... 8
A description of the Bell System's new Marketing Research Information System, the world's largest consumer data base.
Vandalism: An Act in Search of a Cause, by Professor Philip G. Zimbardo..... 12
Is the damage done by vandals really irrational, wanton and senseless?
Women in Management..... 18
A look at the changing role of women managers in the Bell System.

JULY/AUGUST 1972

A Time of Decision, by John D. deButts..... 24
